

SIX MILLION PROJECT

TINY RECTANGLES, MONUMENTAL REMEMBRANCE

"The opposite of love is not hate, it's indifference."

– Elie Wiesel

Thank you for joining the Six Million Project.

Color this page with your favorite colors. It will be combined with others to create a panel for the final exhibition.

Take your time — each rectangle honors a life.

- Choose a mood: calm, bold, light, or dark — and pick colors to match.
- Color rectangles randomly across the page.
- Color neatly within the lines.
- Try not to place two of the same color next to each other.
- Some rectangles can stay white for contrast.
- Work from top to bottom to avoid smudging.
